

Labyrinth system below insulation directly to basement slab to retrieve the thermal mass temperature of the ground for pre-heating outside air.

